What event has happened?

We visited Xinyi Glass Holdings' (XYG) factory in Wuhu last week for an update on the company. Management also shared its vision for XYG's expansion strategy. XYG is considering investing in a new float-glass production line in Canada to tap into the floatglass market in North America.

Why is it significant?

We believe that management remains fairly upbeat about the H2 FY17 results. According to management, float glass prices rose by about Rmb200 per ton during the peak season in 2017. Demand in Guangdong province has been particularly strong and this market accounts for about one-third of XYG's float-glass production volume. Although soda ash prices have risen significantly in H2 2017, XYG has purchased 30% of its requirements from overseas suppliers, which has helped it mitigate cost pressure. Management remains upbeat about float glass GPMs expanding further in H2, compared with H1 FY17.

Implications for our earnings forecast?

We revise down our FY17 NP forecast slightly, by 2% to HK$3,542mn, but revise up our FY18 NP forecast by 1.1%. We forecast an H2 FY17 GPM of 37.1%, compared with 36.4% in H1 FY17. We believe that rising soda ash costs should result in the GPM falling for the auto glass and construction glass divisions, albeit an improvement in float glass margin can make up for this. Soda ash prices rose from Rmb1,700 per tonne in June 2017 to Rmb2,450 per tonne in October 2017. Each tonne of float glass uses about 0.2 tonnes of soda ash.

How do valuations look now?

As of the last close, XYG shares trade at only 8.5x FY17 PER with a dividend yield of 5.6% on our forecasts. We continue to value the stock at 9x our FY18 EPS forecast, now HK$1.04. As a result, we raise our target price slightly, from HK$9.20 to HK$9.30 to reflect the small changes to our EPS estimates. The main risks to our rating and the attainment of our target price are a significant slowdown in property sales in China and a rapid rise in material costs. We see the major positive catalyst for the shares as the government tightening environmental standards, which should benefit large-scale companies such as XYG.

What is distinctive about our stock view?

In 2017, the Chinese government has shown that it is serious about dealing with environmental issues in China. 40–50% of the float-glass supply in China is still produced using highly polluting fuel such as petroleum coke. We believe that XYG should benefit from tightening environmental regulations as its production is based on natural gas, which is a clean energy source.

Haitong International Non-Rated Research: Haitong International publishes quantitative, screening or short reports which may rank stocks according to valuation and other metrics or may suggest prices based on possible valuation multiples. Such rankings or suggested prices do not purport to be stock ratings or target prices or fundamental values and are for information only.

HTI Equity-Style Portfolios: Stocks are selected for Haitong International's equity-style portfolio products based on six different strategies: Value, Quality, Growth, Risk, Momentum and US Exposure. Each quarter, HTI's rated coverage is screened based on the selection criterion for each strategy and using a scoring methodology, the top 20 stocks for each strategy are identified and assigned to the portfolios. Note that the quantitative screening used to rank stocks for the HTI equity-style portfolios is separate from the fundamental analysis employed by HTI sector analysts, so there may be differences in the assessments of individual stocks.

HTI Themes: The Haitong International research department periodically identifies a select number of themes that it believes have longevity and identifies stocks from among its rated coverage that are relevant for these themes. These themes and the relevant stocks are reviewed on a quarterly basis. Note that the strategic attractiveness of a general theme may be different from the fundamental assessments of individual stocks within that theme.

Related SCNet Visits: The designation of a related SCNet visit means that the specified Haitong International non-rated company visit reports may provide additional perspective with regard to HTI's rated coverage. The research department selects these related SCNet visit reports on a quarterly basis. The process of compiling and publishing unrated SCNet notes is separate from the fundamental assessment and publication of individual rated stocks.

Haitong International Coverage of A-Shares: Haitong International may cover and rate A-Shares that are subject to the Hong Kong Stock Connect scheme with Shanghai and Shenzhen. Haitong Securities (HS; 600837 CH), the ultimate parent company of HTISG based in Shanghai, covers and publishes research on these same A-Shares for distribution in mainland China. However, the rating system employed by HS differs from that used by HTI and as a result there may be a difference in the HTI and HS ratings for the same A-share stocks.

Haitong International Quality 100 A-share (Q100) Index: HTI's Q100 Index is a quant product that consists of 100 of the highest-quality A-shares under coverage at HS in Shanghai. These stocks are carefully selected through a quality-based screening process in combination with a review of the HS A-share team's bottom-up research. The Q100 constituent companies are reviewed guarterly.
